

We are progressing our Source to Contract implementation to support a consistent and efficient way of working with you.

Looking ahead: Invitation to Upcoming Supplier Information Sessions and your Source to Contract information page

Following our last communication in November, we would like to share an important update on Phase 1: Source to Contract of our new Ivalua platform implementation and how we will continue to keep you informed as we progress toward go-live.

We are implementing Ivalua as our new Source-to-Contract platform to strengthen our sourcing and contracting processes and to support a more consistent, efficient and transparent way of working with our suppliers. We want to reiterate that JOSCAR remains valid and important and will not be replaced or impacted. JOSCAR will now be integrated to Ivalua.

Where We're Heading

We are currently targeting a go-live date in the early April 2026 and are preparing our own internal training to ensure our BAE Systems Australia teams are fully prepared to support a seamless transition. Our focus remains on ensuring the platform and processes are well established before introducing any supplier-facing changes.

What This Means for You

At this stage, there is no immediate action required from you as our valued suppliers. To support you through this change, we will send out calendar invites to the Supplier Information Sessions as we get closer to our go-live date. These sessions will provide an overview of what to expect during the rollout, including the overall approach and key milestones, how and when you will be contacted, expected timeframes and high-level onboarding requirements.

We will continue to provide advance notice and clear guidance ahead of any changes that may impact you.

How We Will Keep You Informed

Most importantly, to support ongoing communication, we have established a dedicated Source to Contract information page for you, which will serve as the central place for:

- High-level guidance
- Program updates and milestones
- Key information for suppliers as we approach go-live

You can access the page linked here: Source to Contract

We encourage you to refer to this page as we continue to share further updates.

Thank You!

Thank you for your continued partnership and support. We value the important role you play, and adaptability as we evolve our systems and processes. Your collaboration is invaluable, and we look forward to strengthening how we work together through this new platform.
