

THIS AUSTRALIAN SHIPBUILDER IS INTEGRATING RIGHT NOW

At BAE Systems we know Australia's warships. For over 30 years, we've been the leading Prime Systems Integrator for naval propulsion, combat, communication and air defence systems.

Right now, we're delivering some of the most complex and challenging maritime integration projects such as the Anti-Ship Missile Defence upgrade on the ANZAC class ships to the Canberra Class Landing Helicopter Docks.

With experienced integrators, proven skills and modernised facilities on both sides of Australia, we're equipping the Navy with capability and capacity to fight and win.

It's another way we provide solutions at sea and ashore.
